

SUIT UP FOR FALL

Written By Jennifer Cheng

“Fit is the most important detail for a suit. Marry that with classic colour options and quality fabric, and you have a great looking, versatile suit for every occasion”

— Dwight Fenton, Bonobos VP of Design

FENTON'S 3 SIMPLE SUIT TIPS TO FIND THE RIGHT FIT:

1 Fit starts with the shoulders: The jacket should grab your shoulders snugly but not be overly tight. If the shoulders fit, pretty much anything else can be adjusted.

2 Length matters: To determine the appropriate length, you should be able to cup the bottom of the suit with your arms by your side.

3 Show some shirt: A flexible but general rule of thumb is to have a quarter inch of your shirt cuff showing. If you're wearing a heavier cuff, like a french cuff, you may want to show a little more.

Initially a web-driven apparel brand now partnered with Nordstrom, Bonobos just launched its new fall collection of tailored wool suits, tweed blazers and tuxedos www.bonobos.com

FLANNEL FUNDAMENTALS
Crafted from fine Italian wool, Bonobos' new flannel suit is a must-have

◀ GOLDMINE

Think message in a block of gold. This limited-edition leather fragrance is lifted with top notes of mint and blood mandarin that make for a distinctly rich scent
